

Neptune and Suicide Charts

Neptune seems to have a lot of potential in dealing with suicide. Mars and Jupiter seem to be the highest planets involved with Neptune and suicide charts. Marc Edmond Jones in his research showed that planets rising before the sun are very important. In this suicide research Neptune rising before the sun shows a 96.4% probability. The 12th house relationship to the first house is strong. The sign of Pisces doesn't seem to play a part in the research. The table below shows astrological criteria that are strong in charts of people that committed suicide .. One thing that you need to remember is that one of these criteria alone is not enough to give a person suicidal tendencies. One needs to have many, many of them. The more of them the higher the potential.
