

RESEARCHING VENUS, ITS SIGNS - TAURUS & LIBRA AND ITS HOUSES -
THE SECOND AND SEVENTH,
IN THE BIRTHCHARTS OF PEOPLE WHO COMMITTED SUICIDE
By Charlie Edgarton, September 2014

ABSTRACT

This research attempts to determine the connection between a particular planet: Venus, its corresponding signs: Taurus and Libra, and their corresponding houses, the second and seventh houses in the natal charts of people with the propensity for suicide.

INTRODUCTION

The research utilized as many individual facets of analysis as possible. Only some of them proved to be significant, but, to have reached any statistically profound results, at all, speaks loudly for itself, and thus for Astrology. The analysis used over a thousand criteria looking for relationships that exceeded normal or average correlation in the natal charts of people who committed suicide. This study writeup is used in conjunction with the spreadsheet entitled Venus Suicide Research Results.

METHODOLOGY

The data we collected totaled 563 birth charts of people who committed suicide. We used the Astro Investigator Fast Research software designed and written by AIR Software to do our research. (www.alphee.com)

The criteria for our research model included but were not limited to Venus: in each sign, each house, major aspects to Venus (10° or 8° orb), minor aspects to Venus (3° orb), 6th harmonics, 4th harmonics, if it is intercepted, retrograde, rising before the Sun or Moon, conjunct an angle, phases, speed, aspects to planets in the 2nd or 7th houses, aspects to the ruler of the 2nd or 7th houses, the same with the Taurus or Libra houses, all midpoints aspects to Venus and Venus in any of the four hemispheres. We included the Nodes and the vertex in our research.

RESULTS

Using a minimum chi square of 3, out of over a thousand astrological events, 36 events were significant. Of those, 18 had a high probability of happening often and 18 had a high probability of happening seldom. Of the 18 tending toward suicide, 4 had Mercury and 4 had Uranus involved, these being the two planets associated with intellectual functioning; thus 8 of those 18 had associations with mentally active Astrological stimulæ. Analyzing the rest of the results, by planet, sign, house and aspect resulted in no conclusive corrolaries.

CONCLUSION

No one, single, astrological criterion, based on Venus, its signs and houses, points toward suicidal tendencies. What the research does bring forward is a set of criteria, taken individually or as a group that do point, statistically, directly toward a propensity toward suicide. The significantly high chi squares, and thus, probabilities proclaim that there are measurable astrological events that provide insight into the chance that someone may be more prone toward being suicidal.
